

BBQ Trailer information

BBQNZ have been fabricating bbq related products for the past 12 years.

The BBQ Trailers are a result of client's needs for a ready to use unit equipped with everything to host functions for clients and personnel without having to add loose items like cooler bins etc.

I use 304 Grade Stainless steel box sections to make a framework first.

This gets covered by 304 Grade Stainless Steel sheet metal of 1.5mm thick and welded onto the framework, resulting in an extraordinarily strong unit and will not break apart and it is weatherproof because there are no seams that must be glued together. No pop-rivets are used to assemble any parts of the body structure or panels.

High quality springs 1200kg each, hubs, Jockey wheel and axle are the only items not stainless, but they have been hot-dipped galvanised.

All doors are lockable and held open with 550N - 750N gas struts.

Every trailer is issued with a 1-year Rego and a 3 year WOF

Following are photos showing closed trailer when towing as well as photos showing doors open but all serving table tops still in closed position.

Following are photos showing all doors open, tables folded down and ready to use.

The two bbq griddles sits on a shelf that slides out 300mm to hang over the left side of the trailer. They are loose units and portable in other words the gas lines are not fixed to the body of the trailer at all but are standard feed lines with regulators as it comes from the factory. The shelf has a utensil rack as part of the unit which makes it handy to use for utensils, spices, and dishes.

The BBQ Griddles with solid steel cooking tops are of a local brand “JUMBUCK” and can cook up to 28 burger patties and 50 sizzler sausages

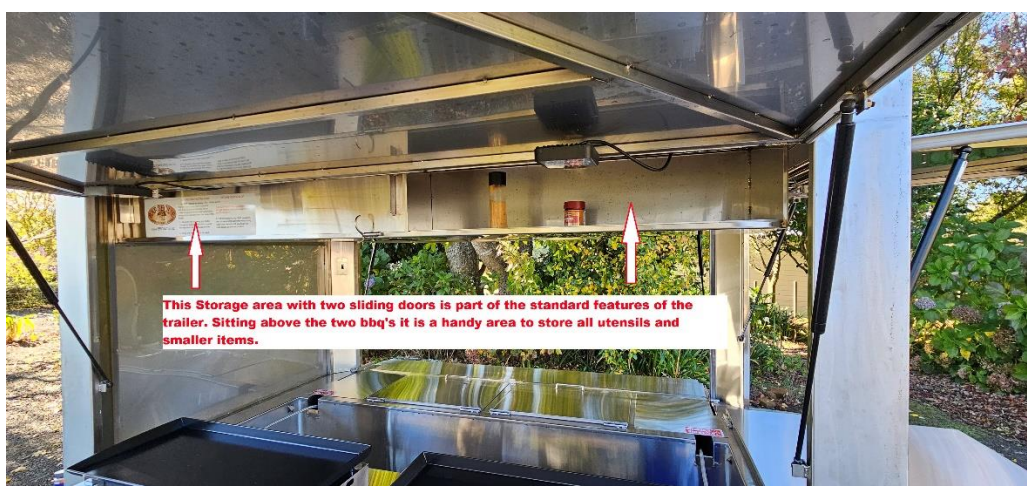

Storage areas as part of standard design

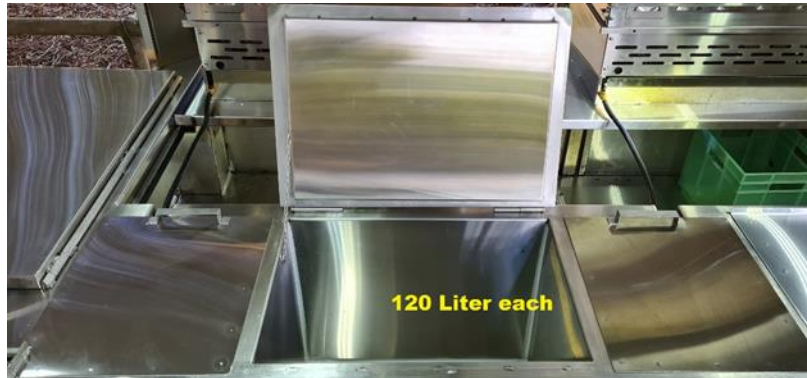

Following photos shows the area underneath the bbq shelf.

Cooler bins are standard and are 120 Litres each. They are made up of double walled stainless sheet metal and insulated with 50mm thick polystyrene in between. The lids are also insulated with 25mm thick polystyrene. Each one has a drain hole with tap at the bottom for easy cleaning.

The following items are all add on features at an extra cost.
